

FIRST ENGLISH WOMAN NAMED ON LEGATION CORPS

Miss Pressley Smith Receives
Appointment to Christiania
From Sir Edward Grey

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON.—The appointment of a prominent suffragist leader, Miss Pressley Smith, as an assistant secretary in the British legation at Christiania is a departure in British policy and a tribute to the work of British women in the war. When the campaign for suffrage was being waged before the war, Sir Edward Grey declared himself a supporter of equal rights for the sexes, and several members of parliament asked if the minister of foreign affairs would dare to show the courage of his convictions by appointing women to the diplomatic service. A practical answer to the question has now been given. Norway itself was the pioneer nation in this movement, having a woman secretary of legation on its own diplomatic roll.

Miss Pressley Smith has been the organizer of the National Union for Suffrage in Edinburgh for the last two and a half years, and since the war began has shown fine organizing ability in the management of societies for the relief of soldiers and sailors, and their families. Prominent advocates of the women's movement have been urging the government to open the higher branches of the civil service to university women and have urged their suitability for diplomacy. There is no doubt that Miss Smith will be persona grata in Norway, since that is a suffrage country, where women are eligible to all branches of the public service except the army and the church.

Miss Pressley Smith was one of a band of women who went into the fields as berry-pickers to obtain first hand knowledge of the conditions under which women worked. The result of their experience was to persuade employers to raise wages, and to furnish decent shelter and food for the hundreds of women and girls who are drafted from the cities in summer by the great canning firms.

EVERY GUARDSMAN TO HAVE RIFLE WITHIN TWO WEEKS IS PLAN

Many rifles, bayonets, scabbards and much other equipment have been shipped to the companies of the National Guard of Hawaii on the other islands during the last week, and a large quantity of various things needed by the companies is now in the Armory, ready to send out as soon as packing can be attended to. Within the course of two weeks it is probable that every man in the National Guard will be supplied with a rifle and all the equipment that goes with it.

Two of the Colt machine guns which have for some time been in possession of the territory probably will be shipped to Hawaii for use by the militia there. There are no funds available just now to buy new machine guns but an effort will be made to get more guns of this type as soon as possible, as all of the regiments need machine guns.

BUILT PLATFORM OUT IN SURF TO OBTAIN MOVIES

A trip through Haleakala crater will be shown in motion pictures by R. K. Bonine at the opera house tomorrow night. Since Kilauea also is to be shown there will be an opportunity to see Hawaii's two greatest wonders.

On the trip to the summit from Olinda and through the crater Mr. Bonine was accompanied by Prof. Thomas A. Jaggar, director of the volcano observatory, Kilauea; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wood, J. N. S. Williams, Worth Aiken and others. The ascent from Olinda from the time of starting is shown. Some of the scenes along the way, notably the passage through broken lava, are given. The crest is gained at the beginning of the sliding sands, which run from the rim clear to the floor of the pit, and from the crest and floor itself, different views of the great crater are shown, the cones that are one of its more conspicuous features, a panorama and other wonders.

Another film that should be of great interest to Honolulu is one which shows the best features of some of the recent Mid-Pacific carnivals. Those who have attended carnivals time out of mind will have some old days recalled to them vividly. There will be floral parades, the landing of Kamehameha at Waikiki and other scenes.

Unusual motion pictures of surfing were obtained by Mr. Bonine by building a stand far off shore, where the best riders, unwilling to remain inshore with the beginners, take their boards. This stand was braced against the surf, and, as an extra precaution, several canoes were placed about it, manned by good swimmers and canoe boys, to rescue Mr. Bonine and his camera if the stand should go down with the surf. The surf-riders move into the eye of the camera at high speed. As they had passed by the time the surf struck the stand, Mr. Bonine was able to cease unreeing film and hold to supports while the stand shook with the rush of waters.

DAINTY GEISHA GIRLS DANCE TO HELP BUY GIFT

Thirty-six dainty geisha girls danced, sang and played last evening at the Opera House, donating their services, in order to help swell the fund which Honolulu Japanese are raising with which to pay for the costly fountain which is to be their gift to Kapiolani park in commemoration of the coronation of Yoshihito.

Despite the enthusiastic praise earned by a similar performance put on in the grounds of the Japanese consulate here November 14, the audience last night was not large, and only $200 was cleared for the fountain fund and another $800 is needed to swell the total to the $8000 which the gift to the city will cost.

There were four dances, the translated names of which are "Beauties of Kioto," "Beauties of Honolulu," "Cherry Dance" and "Flowers that bloom in Autumn," and each had a distinctive charm.

Elaborate stage settings had been arranged, no less than seven different "back drops" being used, and the costuming of the dancers in every case was novel and beautiful. "Honolulu Meisho," Beauties of Honolulu, was the most attractive dance of the four, to American eyes at least, though each of the offerings drew well earned applause.

Motion pictures of the coronation decorations and parades at Tokio and Kioto were presented. Though they flickered and blurred badly on account of static electricity, they gave a good impression of the elaborate preparations and ceremonies.
